LYRICS

SKATEBOARD CHAMPION

Our little boy turned twelve today, A skateboard champ in every way
But this year the house was dark and still, He lost his leg one month ago
The car that hit him didn't know, He was riding on his skateboard down the hill

He said I know I've only got one leg, but daddy I can't stand the pain
Of knowing I can't skateboard anymore, My eyes were lowered to the ground
To hide the teardrops falling down, I wish that things could be just like before

CHORUS

He was a skateboard champion, the best in all the land
A blue ribbon winner, he could skateboard on his hands
His room was filled with trophies and souvenir displays
He was the greatest champion in oh so many ways

My mind went back in time to when, I'd come home late from work and then
I'd stumble over skateboards on the floor, what I'd give to have my way
To turn the clock back to the day, I'd watch him ride his skateboard from the door

But sadness didn't last to long, I'd find him there when I got home with skateboard in his hand he'd smile and say,
You'll probably think that this sounds strange
But do you think you could arrange, to help me with my skateboard today

CHORUS

Our little champion had no doubts, he'd talked to Jimmy Smith about
The skateboard contest at the county fair. I know they'll probably laugh at me
But I'll show them just wait and see, I've only got one leg but I'll be there

Little did we know that day that things would turn out quite this way
Our little champion came in with first place
The crowd was cheering from the stands, He rode that skateboard on his hands
And tears of joy were streaming down my face
